

MISSOURI PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

JOB OPPORTUNITY

REGULATORY ECONOMIST I/II

The Missouri Public Service Commission is seeking an Economist in our Jefferson City office. Duties include performing analysis related to energy issues that affect Missouri's investor owned utilities and their customers.

This is a responsible, professional position that requires the application of quantitative economic methods and statistical analysis to topics that have impacts in utility ratemaking. Analyses may include weather-normalization of utility sales and revenues, performing class cost-of-service studies, developing billing units and revenues, formulating load research studies, and determining rate impacts. The position also requires extremely detailed verification of analyses presented by regulated utilities, consultants, and other interested parties. The economist in this position will develop and make recommendations to the Commission based on the results of quantitative economic analysis of the issues.

QUALIFICATIONS: Graduation from an accredited four-year college or university with specialization in economics or closely related area plus a minimum of two years of professional experience performing economic analyses in a regulatory environment, or a Master's degree in economics or closely related area is required. Experience with spreadsheets and word processing is essential. Additional computer simulation and database experience is preferred. The ability to work well in a team environment is a must.

The annual salary ranges are: Economist I - $38,544 to $39,984 and Economist II - $43,056 to $49,548 with a potential salary increase at the completion of a successful probationary period. To be considered for this position, please submit an application, resume, a copy of all transcripts and a one or two page technical writing sample by 5:00 pm on September 26, 2014 to MO Public Service Commission, Reference Number UO080914, P.O. Box 360, Jefferson City, Missouri 65102 or via e-mail to pscjobs@psc.mo.gov. For additional information, visit www.psc.mo.gov.
