

Relay Missouri/ Captioned Telephone Services

A Publication Of The Missouri Public Service Commission

Individuals who have a hearing loss severe enough to prevent them from being able to communicate effectively over the telephone, but can speak clearly, will be able to benefit from technology known as captioned telephone services

The Technology

◆ Captioned Telephone Voice Carry Over (VCO) technology using a Captioned Telephone -- or CapTel™ -- involves a relay operator and voice recognition software to translate an operator's spoken word to text.

◆ The captions are provided "live" and are displayed on the telephone's built-in screen so the user can read the words while listening to the other party.

About RELAY MISSOURI

◆ The CapTel™ phone is part of the Relay Missouri service network. The Public Service Commission oversees the administration of Relay Missouri, which was enacted through a 1990 Missouri law.

◆ Relay Missouri is a telecommunications relay service, providing full telephone accessibility to people who are deaf, hard-of-hearing or speech disabled.

You May be Eligible for Adaptive Equipment

The Missouri Assistive Technology Council is responsible for distribution of CapTel™ phonesets and other types of adaptive telephone equipment needed by Missourians with disabilities. To be eligible for the equipment, a person:

- ◆ Must be a Missouri resident and have telephone service in their home;
- ◆ Must have a certified disability that prevents them from accessing or effectively using basic telephone services with standard telephone equipment. In addition, certain income limits may apply.

For more information, call the Missouri Assistive Technology Council at (800) 647-8557 (voice) or (800) 647-8558 (TTY); or at <http://www.dolir.missouri.gov/matp/Tapfortele.htm>
