Missouri Public Service Commission

(Not to Scale)

Missouri Landfill Gas Plants under MoPSC pipeline safety jurisdiction:
Pattonville High School LFG System
Toro Energy of Missouri, L.L.C.
Ameresco Jefferson City, L.L.C.

(These Landfill Gas Systems Are Not Shown on the Map)

Natural gas is distributed to Jackson County and the Kansas City area by Missouri Gas Energy

Safety of natural gas service directly to large industrial customers is regulated by the Missouri Public Service Commission.

Natural gas is distributed to the City of St. Louis and all areas of St. Louis County by Laclede Gas Company.

The MoPSC has pipeline safety jurisdiction over municipal-owned natural gas operators and intrastate investor-owned natural gas companies. These municipal-owned natural gas operators are listed below and the six intrastate investor-owned natural gas companies under MoPSC pipeline safety jurisdiction are highlighted in the Gas Pipeline Index table at the bottom of the map.

Note: Some municipals not listed are in a joint utility agreement with other municipal operators.

Operating Ethanol Plants in Missouri:
Golden Triangle (Craig, Mo.)
Lifeline Foods, LLC (St. Joseph)
Mid-Missouri Energy, Inc. (Malta Bend, Mo.)
POET Biorefining (Missouri Ethanol in Laddonia, Mo.)
POET Biorefining (Northeast Missouri Grain in Macon, Mo.)
Show-Me Ethanol, LLC (Carrollton, Mo.)

(These Ethanol Plants Are Not Shown on Map)

DISCLAIMER: Pipeline locations provided are for informational purposes only. The information displayed on this map is for general reference purposes only, is intended to display an approximate depiction of the general location of natural gas pipelines and interconnections, and does not provide accurate pipeline location information. This map may not show all natural gas transmission pipelines or laterals, and does not show individual natural gas distribution piping systems. This map should not be used to identify exact locations of pipelines, or as a substitute for contacting the Missouri One-Call System prior to excavation activities (see note below).
